7th February 2017

Dear Parents,

Parents Talk - Raising Positive Children with The 7 Habits

It is quite common for our children to have worries and concerns. Our role is to help our children apply personal leadership principles and skills to the tough choices they face every day.

Parenting can be hard work. For effective parenting, it is all about developing our children's personal leadership skills – focus on building independence on our children and helping them become more interdependent. When our children have developed a strong leadership foundation, they will be able to cope with tough situations and influence people around them positively.

To guide us in this process, we have invited Mr Aaron Starks, Director of International Education for Franklin Covey, to give us a talk on 'Raising Positive Children with the 7 Habits'. He will introduce the 7 habits and provide examples of how we can help our children to practically apply these habits to overcome challenges.

The details of the talk are as follows:

DATE: 20th February 2017 (Monday)
TIME: 6.45 pm – 8.30 pm
